While the residents in cities all along the coast are battling developers over the height of proposed condominium projects, planning commissioners in Hancock County have decided to welcome the tall towers with open arms. On Thursday Commissioners voted unani-an area bordered by Poinset to the east, Bayou Caddy and Turkey Bayou to the west, the Mississippi Sound to the south, and the railroad tracks to the north. The new district will be geared to bringing the tourist industry to the area, said build-

A trio of suspects was arrested early Thursday morning following an armed robbery on Highway 90's service road near Bayou LaCroix Road. Sheriff Steve Garber reports.

Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt said, "Chad J. Venezia, 24, Bayside Park, Andrew F. Ladner, 19, Bay St. Louis, and Nathan Powell, 21, Waveland, were arrested and charged with armed robbery."

"Deputy Mary Coster responded to the initial report of the armed robbery of two subjects, reporting the suspects had two guns. A BOLO (Be On The Lookout) for the vehicle and suspects was issued and Waveland Officer Todd Black located the truck with three subjects a short time later," Hurt said. The two persons robbed were in an auto.

Hurt continued, "Investigator Matt Barnett was notified. There were three subjects in the vehicle when it was stopped."

Women's health over 40 topic of April 21 luncheon at Hancock Medical Center

After age 40, many women find that their once regular monthly cycles are no longer predictable. On April 21, board certified gynecologist Dr. Keith Goodfellow will address these and other common health concerns of women during a noon luncheon at Diamondhead Country Club.

Peri-menopause, the years leading up to menopause, is marked by such symptoms as prolonged yet lighter cycles, vaginal dryness and hot flashes.

Menopause, the time when a woman's menstrual bleeding has ended permanently, occurs when the ovaries cease production of estrogen and progesterone. On average, women in the United States enter menopause near age 52. However, it is not abnormal for women to experience menopause as early 40 or as late as 56.

Many of these women have noted a decreased libido and sometimes severe and frequent hot flashes. For many years, hormones such as estrogen, progesterone and testosterone have been the frequent choice of many physicians and patients in treatment of these symptoms. Recently, their use has fallen out of favor by many practitioners.

"While hormone replacement therapy is effective in many women, other options are available for the treatment of menopausal symptoms. Certain anti-depressants and blood pressure medications are successful in alleviating the symptoms that occur throughout menopause," stated Goodfellow.

Breast cancer, osteoporosis, colon cancer and urinary incontinence are also of concern for women over 40. These topics will also be discussed.

Knowing which treatment options are suitable for you can ease your transition into this stage of life. The luncheon seminar is $5 and reservations are required. To reserve your place, please call 467-8727.

allegedly killing Larry Mark Jacob in a fight. He has been out on bond since then.

Brown's attorney, Brian Alexander, said that while no lesser plea has been offered, his client would not accept one, as he has maintained his innocence from the start.

Alexander said Brown had already undergone two operations, one six months ago, and one on March 31. While the first operation removed a large portion of the tumor, attempts to treat it with chemotherapy proved unsuccessful, and the tumor grew back.

While Alexander did not know any details of Brown's recovery following his second operation, he said that Brown was under the care of an oncologist and neurologist in Atlanta, and both have repeatedly stated that Brown will be unable to stand trial for at least a year.

A hearing during next week's circuit court session will determine his medical status and ability to stand trial.

Get ready for Red Beans & Rice

It's here! That is, the annual Red Beans & Rice Cook-Off to benefit the American Cancer Society.

The day is Monday, April 18, the time, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., the place, the Hancock County Civic Center, located on Longfellow Drive, next to the Human Services Complex.

WANTED, Bean eaters of all ages, to come and eat their fill of the Best Cooked Red Beans ever.

And do not forget the great corn bread too, along with some special desserts, etc.

All of this for only a donation of $6 to benefit the American Cancer Society.

Come, because you will recognize many of the Local Famous Chefs, some are professionals, while others praise their cooking abilities as a hobby.

Oh yes, there will be takeouts too, and these will be prepared by Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre and Hancock County Tax Collector Jimmie Ladner, Jr., who serve as CO-chairs, along with Calgon Carbon's Ernie Zimmerman for the great fund raiser.

Favre and Ladner have both proved their great culinary skills over the years by winning many top cooking honors, and they feel others should be given an opportunity to win. That is not saying you cannot try the great beans prepared by the 40 plus competitors too.

Tickets will be available at the door and the general public will have an opportunity to vote for whom they think are the best red beans cooks.

This is really a fun time and a good time to meet old friends and make new acquaintances.

Call your relatives, friends and neighbors, invite them to attend with you and have a great time for a great cause.

I hope to see you tomorrow at the Red Beans & Rice Cook-Off.

On Thursday, you do not want to forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours.

This month's event will be held at 402 & 404 Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Sponsors are Hairworks, Loss Control Services, Yuki Art & Interiors and AdLib Creative Services.

The event is located across from the Bay St. Louis Girls Fast Pitch Softball Field.

There will be refreshments and snacks and the event is open to chamber members and guests.

Just think, this one event I can just walk too, as it is only 100 yards from my home.

I will be there and I hope you are too.

Which do you want, rules or results?

Mississippians have sent me to Washington to get results, not to make statements.

That's why I want to change Senate rules so that we can put federal judges on the bench. Senate rules are stymieing results for the American people—creating scores of judicial vacancies and keeping good men, women and minority judges off the bench. It's time for change.

Within the Senate, a body of just 100 people, often referred to as the world's most exclusive club, it would be easy for me to talk about Senate "traditions," often considered sacred and beyond change. It's true that the Senate, as the Founding Fathers designed it, is a more calm, cordial and consensus-oriented body. Yet, even with its long-standing traditions, the Senate always has had Constitutionally-provided power over its rules, and the Senate has indeed changed its rules periodically to protect them from abuse.

Right now, a few Senators are absolutely abusing the rules, employing the filibuster provision to keep judicial nominees from even being brought to the Senate floor for a fair up-or-down vote. Though they depict any rule change as drastic—a "nuclear" option—it is this minority of Senators who already have gone "nuclear," drastically altering Senate tradition.

That's because for 200 years of Senate history the filibuster rule, which is a stalling tactic, was not applied to judicial nominees who had majority support. Judicial nominees generally were considered on merit, without partisan considerations, but no more.

The problems started more than 15 years ago and culminated recently with the shameful sack of lies thrown at Mississippi's own Judge Charles Pickering, simply because he was a conservative Christian. The attacks against him, though discredited, devolved the confirmation process to new lows. Today, dozens of distinguished men, women and minorities are being filibustered by liberals because they might make conservative rulings against abortion, same-sex marriage or assisted suicide.

It has to stop. People outside the Washington beltway don't care about end-

Early learning left behind in MS

While Mississippi spends a higher percentage of State funds on education than other states, a new multi-site study shows State spending on health and human services is half that of the other sites with spending on the early learning of children under three lags behind as well.

Mississippi's combined spending on the education of the State's population 23 years of age and younger accounted for 60.9 percent of general fund expenditures while the multi-site average was 44.9 percent. State spending on health and human services, on the other hand, accounted for 15.1 percent of general fund expenditures in Mississippi compared to the 29.2 percent average of all sites.

The average percentage of general fund expenditures for the public education of children six-to-eighteen years of age was 30.5 percent—virtually identical to the multi-site average of 29.2 percent of general funds expended on health and human services. This near equal average commitment of general funds is a sharp contrast to the 63 percent spending gap in Mississippi where 41.1 percent of general funds expenditures are for public education, a full 26 percent higher than the 30.5 percent multi-site average.

"Mississippi's commitment to public education needs to reflect an understanding of the important role a child's physical health and social-emotional development plays in school readiness and school success in addition to the critical early learning period from birth to age three," said Jane Boykin, President of the Mississippi Forum on Children and Families, the State organization releasing the study in conjunction with the Child and Family Policy Center and Voices for America's Children.

On a dollar-for-dollar basis, Mississippi's total

Letters to the Editor

Our letters policy

spending of local, state, and federal funds on public education, $5,965.12, is lower than the multi-site average expenditure of $7,889 cited in the report. However, on a per child basis, Mississippi spends more on the education of college-age youth 19-23 years of age and preschool-age children 3-5 years of age.

For every dollar invested in the education of a school-age child, the State invests 76.6 cents on the education of a college-age youth; 37.3 cents on the education of a preschool-age child; but invests only seven cents in the early learning of an infant or toddler. The multi-site average expenditures are significantly lower at 52.1 cents for a college-age youth and 21.3 cents for a preschool-age child. The State's 7.2 cent investment in the early learning infants and toddlers falls below the 8.9 cent site average. "The importance of the learning that takes place before a child's third birthday is hardly news," she said, "yet, Mississippi is relying on federal funds for all but $16 of the $429 the State spending on the early learning of children under three years of age. In fact," she continued, "the State depends heavily on federal funds for the education of our preschool-age children, three-to-five years old, and college-age youth, although not nearly to the extent that we're sticking our hands in our pockets when it comes to early learning."

According to Boykin, early learning does not mean early formal schooling. Her point is backed up by Nobel Prize winning economist James J. Heckman, Ph.D., the Henry Schultz Professor of Economics on the faculty of the University of Chicago. Heckman, noting the importance of the skills formation that takes place in infancy and the very early childhood years, said, "Significantly, this is a time when human ability and motivation are shaped by families and non-institutional environments... Formal or institutional education is only one aspect of the learning process." Heckman's recommendation for the wise use of available funds in an era of tight budgets is investment in the very young to improve basic learning and socialization skills.

Mississippi stands to gain more than most other states from an investment in the very young, Boykin said, because she considers so many of the State's problems are home-grown problems. "I'm convinced we are spending money on alternative schools, special and remedial education that would not be necessary if Mississippi invested heavily in families and the early learning of children during the very early childhood years," she said.

"Make no mistake about it, change must come if we are ever going to realize the full return possible from any dollar spent on public education," she continued, "however, the needed change in State spending can not happen overnight. The shift should be a planned process that takes place over time," she said, "but slicing the pie should start now-- the size of the pie is a matter for others to decide."

less debates about Senate parliamentary rules; they want results. The federal case backlog is delaying and denying justice to many Americans. Whether liberal or conservative, most fair-minded Americans would agree that every judicial nominee, regardless of ideology, deserves an up-or-down vote by the U.S. Senate -- a vote by your representatives. Now what's so "nuclear" about that?

The fact is, it's not a "nuclear" option but a Constitutional option. A "yes" or "no" vote by the Senate is as fair, conventional and Constitutional as it gets. With two Senators for every state, the Senate has equal representation. That's what the framers of our Constitution intended. That's why they gave the Senate exclusive powers. They bestowed the Senate with Constitutional authority to confirm Presidential judicial appointments, not as a political weapon, but as part of the Senate's special advise-and-consent duties. We are responsible for confirming federal judges, regardless of politics.

And that's all that I and the other Senators who support changing Senate rules want -- to do our job to put judges in place. It takes 60 votes to stop a filibuster. If we specify that judicial nominees can pass with a simple majority vote of 51 or more, the filibuster tactic would be negated. Virtually every judicial nominee on the calendar would get a vote, and probably be confirmed.

Let me emphasize that this rule change would pertain only to Presidential judicial nominees. Contrary to some very loosely and poorly-constructed newspaper editorials, our proposal does not do away with a filibuster as a way to oppose regular Senate legislation, and it certainly doesn't scrap entirely the filibuster. We're just compelling the Senate to go back to its traditional way of doing things and not apply filibusters to what is supposed to be a nonpartisan judicial confirmation process.

The Senate isn't a fancy, exclusive, uncompromising club with fraternal rules. It works for the American people, with the U.S. Constitution as its only standard. When the Senate's rules actually are keeping Americans' business from getting done, then we know it's time to change those rules, just as our forefathers have done for more than 200 years. And there's nothing nuclear about that.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions or comments about this column. Write to: U.S. Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Tigers wear division crown with 9-5 win over D'Iberville

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

It had been a long time since Bay High (12-11, 9-2) claimed a division title on the high school diamond; however, all that changed on Wednesday night when the Tigers defeated D'Iberville 9-5 at the Fred Weems Athletic Complex.

The last time the Tigers held the hardware for the division crown was in 1986 under Gale McRaney. Since then, several tremendous teams have come and gone along with some stellar baseball players. But, none of them had hoisted a division championship.

Coaches Mike and Luke Weems have changed all that. Bay High head coach Mike Weems commented, "There have been three things that are key to our success this year. One, these players have done everything that we have asked of them as coaches. Two, it has meant a tremendous amount to myself and the team to have my father in the dugout with us at every game. Three, having Luke Weems on staff with me has been invaluable. Without those three things there would not be a championship. We are all on the same page which means so much in a game like baseball. Pitching and defense wins championships and we have had both. Throughout the year our defense has been solid and we have received some tremendous pitching performances. With Cory Jordan going to the mound, we feel like we have a very good shot to be in the game at the end."

The Warriors jumped out on the Tigers early and made it look like it was going to be a long night. However, looks can be very deceiving. And, they had Jordan going to the mound.

D'Iberville jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Steven Thebeau threw out a runner at home to end the bleeding.

In the bottom of the first, the Tigers answered with a run. Trevor Adam walked to get on base followed by a Kyle Sick single. Brad Ladner singled home Adam to get Bay High on the board 3-1.

Over the course of the next five innings, Jordan was almost untouchable as he faced 17 batters. In the game, he allowed nine hits and fanned nine batters while Bay High got 12 hits at the plate.

In the bottom of the second inning, Bay High jumped all over D'Iberville and put undue pressure on the Warriors to seal the game.

Four hits and three errors gave Bay High a lead that they did not surrender. Thebeau and Chris Billingsley both singled to get on base. Colby Adam walked to load the bases. Thebeau scored on a throwing error by the pitcher.

Ricky Manieri walked before Trevor Adam had an RBI single to score Billingsley. Sick drove in Colby Adam with his single. Brad Ladner reached on an error and drove in both Manieri and Trevor Adam. Jordan helped his own cause with an RBI single to score Sick for the final run of the inning and make the score 7-3.

Bay High added two runs in the fourth inning to make their final tally. Jordan reached on an error followed by three consecutive singles by Thebeau, Billingsley and Colby Adam. Adam's single drove in two runs for the Tigers.

In the top of the seventh inning, D'Iberville appeared to have the Tigers on the ropes as they loaded the bases with no outs on three consecutive singles. The Tigers walked a run in to make the score 9-4. Weems made a pitching change and brought Trevor Adam to the mound with the bases loaded and no outs.

While Adam did allow two runs, he faced just three batters and retired all three to get the save as Bay High brought the title home.

On Friday, April 15th the Tigers dropped a division contest to the East Central Hornets 5-2.

The Hornets jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the third inning when an error was committed in the Bay High outfield that allowed an unearned run to cross the plate.

The Hornets scored three more runs in the top of the sixth inning highlighted by a blooper to leftfield drove in two runs.

The Tigers got on the board in the bottom of the sixth inning when Cory Jordan singled home Trevor Adam who had reached on an error.

The Tigers added their final run of the game in the seventh inning when Kyle Sick drove in Colby Adam with a sacrifice fly. Adam reached base on a single to lead off the inning.

Weems added, "We hit the ball very hard tonight but we hit it right at D'Iberville. Trevor Adam pitched as good a game as he has pitched all year. He had a good outing against a good team."

Adam pitched a complete game and allowed 8 hits and fanned six batters. Bay High tallied nine hits against East Central with Cory Jordan and Colby Adam both getting two hits. David Buckley, Trevor Adam, Steven Thebeau and Chris Billingsley all had one hit.

By winning the division title, Bay High will be the host for a mini-tournament between four teams beginning on Thursday, April 21st at the Fred Weems Athletic Complex. More details will be available in Thursday's edition of the newspaper.

On Tuesday, April 12th the Bay High Lady Tigers defeated Gautier in fast pitch softball to secure second place in the division and earn a state playoff berth. The win marked the second consecutive year that Bay High has advanced to the state playoffs. Last season, the Lady Tigers advanced to the second round of the playoffs.

Bay High scored twice in the fourth and once in the sixth to shutout Gautier.

Katie Barrett got the win on the mound and Sarah Lafontaine tallied three hits at the plate for Bay High.

Bay High head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "We got off to slow start with the number of games we played due to several of our players participating on the state championship basketball team. There has been improvement from last year's state playoff team. Our pitching has improved, as well as, our defense in the field. We are starting to hit the ball well. It will be interesting to see what happens in the playoffs."

In addition to the playoff berth, senior pitcher Sara Gilmore has been selected for the MAC All-Star game this summer.

The Lady Tigers will travel to East Central on Saturday, April 16th for a double-header in a best 2-out-of-3 series. If the Tigers split with the Lady Hornets, Game 3 will be at the Fred Weems Athletic Complex on Tuesday.

SSC wins Division 8-4A track title in close finish; Pass makes strong showing

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The finals of the Division 8-4A track and field meet were held on Friday, April 15th at Gulfport and what a final round it was. Fans, coaches and athletes were as nervous and tight as GPs and the working American public was on tax day. Only 20 points separated the top five teams in the boys division while Pass Christian gave Vancleave a run for their money in girls action.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws held off a strong surge by Vancleave, Gautier and Bay High to win the boys title with 111 points. Vancleave was the runner-up with 106 points followed by Gautier 99, Bay High 93, D'Iberville 91, Pass Christian 11 and East Central with 9 points.

The division championship for the Rocks was their 16th track and field title in the last 18 years. The two years that they did not win the title, the Rocks were runner-up.

SSC, Vancleave and Bay High all held the top spot in the meet at various times. The running tally switched with each school's performance in their key events.

SSC head coach Steve Flannery commented, "This was the tightest meet in terms of team scoring that I can remember in recent years. Only 20 points separated the top five teams. The performances by all the teams kept the coaches, athletes and fans on the edge of their seats throughout the meet. It was a great way to end the meet having it go to the final event. We had our best performance of the year in the 4x400 relay and we needed it to win."

The top four finishers in each event qualify for the regional championships which will be held at Gulfport High School on Saturday, April 23rd.

The top qualifiers for SSC were led by Bobby Nilson who was a triple-qualifier. Nilson won both the 1600m and 800m run and placed second in the 3200m run. His times were 4:58, 2:14.58 and 11:04, respectively. He also ran a leg on the 1600m relay.

Sam Hudgens advanced in the 110m high hurdles and the 400m dash. Hudgens won the hurdles in 15.68 and was edged out in the 400m to finish second.

The other winner for SSC was Connor Smith in the pole vault. He leaped 9'6" for the top spot. Smith also advanced in the 400m dash placing third.

Other top finishers were Brad Reinhart in the 1600m run (fourth), 4x400m relay (third), Troy Johnston in the high jump (third), Derek Miketinas in pole vault (second), Chris Tran in long jump (second) and Jordan Ellis in shotput (third).

Flannery added, "I am extremely proud of how we competed in the meet. We all gave a great effort. Bobby Nilson came back for his senior year and worked hard to get two wins and a second. We also had top finishes with Sam Hudgens and Connor Smith, plus some timely breakthroughs in other events. This was one of our smallest teams in recent years which meant that everyone had to do their part to make the championship happen and continue the winning tradition. Our winning margin boiled down to every finish. It didn't matter if it was one point in the 100m to the third place in the shotput or the win in the 800m run."

The Bay High Tigers performed tremendously under the first-year track coach Jeff Hoppood placing fourth overall with 93 points. However, they challenged for the title as hard as any team on the track and qualified in 12 of the 17 events.

Coach Hoppood stated, "I am very pleased with our performance as a team and with our individual efforts, as well. We are trying to build a strong track and field program. We have only two seniors on the team so we will return several key members next season. Our team qualified in several events for the regionals next week. Greg Lamier has been a leader for us and he advanced in the 100m and 200m, as well as, two of the relays.

Steven Dauenhauer was a double winner in the shotput and discus. We just need to keep building on our solid performances this year."

Steven Dauenhauer won both the shotput and discus with distances of 45'3" and 123'8". He was Bay High's only double-winner. Teddy Morris also advanced in the discus with a second place finish.

Greg Lamier advanced in the 100m and 200m dashes with a third place and second place finish, respectively. Brian Adair was also a double-qualifier in the 800m and 1600m runs with two fourth place finishes. Todd Surla advanced in the 110m high hurdles with a fourth place finish.

Donovan Clark took second place in the high jump while teammate George Dailey placed second in the triple jump. All three relay teams qualified for Bay High. The 4x100m and 4x400m teams placed fourth while the 4x200m team took second place honors.

The Pass Christian boys team qualified only in the 4x200m relay with a fourth place finish.

On the girls side, the Lady Pirates of Pass Christian put some pressure on the Lady Bulldogs of Vancleave but fell just short. Vancleave won the title with 162 points followed by Pass Christian with 120, East Central 86, D'Iberville 53, Bay High 45 and Gautier 20 points.

The Lady Pirates of Pass Christian qualified in 14 of the 16 events. They were led by triple-winner Corey McGee. She won the 800m, 1600m and 3200m runs with times of 2:43.05, 5:34.88 and 11:57.96.

The Lady Pirates also had several double-winners. Jessica Rush qualified in the 200m dash (third) and high jump (second). Deidre Palode advanced with a win in the high jump at 4'8" and a second place finish in the 100m hurdles. Sarah Freeman advanced in both the long jump and the triple jump with two fourth place finishes.

Sicily Rials placed second in the 300m intermediate hurdles while teammate Brittany Proby placed fourth in the 100m. Dominique Dedaux placed second in the 400m dash.

All three relay teams advanced to the regionals with the Lady Pirates winning both the 4x100m and 4x200m relays with times of 53.78 and 1:54.03, respectively. The 4x400m relay team took second place.

For the Lady Tigers of Bay High, they performed very well with just five runners on Friday. Darlene Lee led the way for Bay High winning the 100m dash in 12.88 and placing second in the 200m dash. Brittany Massengill placed third overall in the 1600m run.

The 4x200m and 4x400m relay teams each finished third while the 4x100m team placed fourth. Each relay team advanced to the regional competition.

The Our Lady Academy Crescents competed in the Class 3A division meet at Gulfport on Saturday afternoon. A complete listing of regional qualifiers for OLA will be available in Thursday's edition of the newspaper.

MDOT approves addition to I-55 'contraflow' plan

On Tuesday, the three member Mississippi Transportation Commission approved Louisiana's "contraflow" (lane reversal) request that asked the Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) to contraflow the southbound lanes on both I-59 and I-55 for a slow-moving Category 3, 4 or 5 hurricane entering the Gulf of Mexico and expected to require the evacuation of the greater New Orleans area.

In the event that Louisiana's Governor requests help with evacuation traffic congestion, all four lanes of traffic from Louisiana will be permitted to travel north in designated areas of both I-59 and I-55. On I-59, traffic will return to normal (2-way) conditions south of Poplarville, and on I-55, the lane reversal will return to normal just south of Brookhaven.

Upon approval from Governor Haley Barbour to "contraflow" Louisiana traffic into Mississippi, MDOT will need at least seven hours for actual implementation, which includes placing signs, barricades, flashing lights and staffing of personnel along the contraflowed route(s).

For more information, please call the External Affairs Division at (601) 359-7017 or visit the web site at www.goMDOT.com. For evacuation information, please contact the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) at (601) 352-9100.

Peoples Financial earnings jump 83 percent

Peoples Financial Corporation (NASDAQ Small Cap: PFBX), parent of The Peoples Bank, reported net income for the first quarter of 2005 totaled $1,962,000, an increase of 83% over the same quarter in 2004.

The increase in earnings was partially attributable to a one-time gain of $459,000, net of taxes, from the proceeds of the PULSE, EFT Association Exchange.

Earnings per share for first quarter of 2005 rose 84% to $.35, compared to $.19 per share the year before. Earnings per share figures are based on weighted average shares outstanding of 5,552,801 and 5,557,284 on March 31, 2005 and March 31, 2004, respectively.

"Our first quarter was most successful if a little unusual," said Chevis C. Swetman, chairman and CEO of the holding company and the bank. "Our loan volume decreased for the first time in nearly a year and a half, due primarily to two large loans that were paid early during the quarter. We view this as an unusual occurrence of two events taking place in the same quarter that did not allow time for us to make them up with additional new loan volume," added Swetman. "We continue to see strong economic growth and demand for credit in our Mississippi Gulf Coast trade area," he added.

Hancock Holding earnings increase

Hancock Holding Company (NASDAQ: HBHC) has announced earnings for the quarter ended March 31, 2005. Net income for the first quarter of 2005 totaled $15.44 million, compared to $14.14 million reported for the first quarter of 2004, an increase of $1.3 million, or 9 percent.

In commenting on Hancock's operating results for the first quarter of 2005, Hancock Holding Company President Leo W. Seal, Jr. stated, "While Hancock's management team is pleased with the 9 percent growth in earnings from the first quarter of 2004, we realize that 2005 will present a unique challenge to the Company as we strive to maintain the current asset quality improvements and look for opportunities to expand and further strengthen our competitive presence in our primary and targeted growth markets."

GE donates

General Electric Advanced Materials-Plastics at Port Blenville Industrial Park in Pearlington presented the United Way of South Mississippi with a corporate donation of $8,704 recently. A United Way supporter for more than a decade, GE's corporate donation was a 40% match of their employee's $21,486 contribution in 2004 for a total of $30,461. The GE facility has 130 employees and is a producer of engineering thermoplastics resins servicing appliance, automotive, computer, business machine, and communication applications industries. DuPont to apply for MDEQ permits on $100 million project

DuPont DeLisle will begin applying for Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality permits this week which would allow for an investment of approximately $100 million to improve operational efficiencies at the plant and further reduce air emissions.

"This investment is a strong step in securing our long-term viability as a major contributor to the Gulf Coast economy and supports our long-standing commitment to continually reduce overall emissions," said Pat Nichols, DuPont DeLisle plant manager. "While we have been continually reducing emissions over the last 10 years, this investment will result in a decrease of over 15 percent in total air emissions from the plant."

Another significant outcome of the investment, according to Nichols, is that it will reduce the plant's energy usage from purchased fuels by almost 11 percent.

The reductions will result from the installation of two thermal oxidizers and two heat recovery boilers, and from a reduction in the plant's use of coal.

As the projects associated with the investment are implemented this year and next, it is anticipated that the plant's contract workforce will increase by as much as one-third. Currently, 536 DuPont employees and 500 contract employees work at DuPont DeLisle. The plant's annual payroll is in excess of $52 million.

"As part of the investment projects, we will request an increase in select permitted emission limits that will provide us with day-to-day operational flexibility," said Nichols.

"However, the result is a significant total air emissions reduction."

The plant already has received necessary environmental permits for some of the projects included in the investment package and will be seeking others. One of these changes will be for modifications of the plant's existing RCRA (Resource Conservation and Recovery Act) permit. This calls for expansion of a containment area and the construction of two small holding tanks within that containment area. "There will be no increased emissions as a result of this modification," stated Nichols.

Based on an economic impact study conducted in 2004 by Gulf South Economic Development Consultants, DuPont DeLisle's operations have a $203.4 million total impact on the economy of the State of Mississippi each year. In Harrison County, where the plant is located and the majority of its employees reside, that total impact is $85.6 million annually. In Hancock County where many employees also reside, the impact is $18 million. The investment projects will increase that impact over this year and next.

DuPont DeLisle is a major producer of titanium dioxide (TiO2). The plant, which began operations in 1979, uses state-of-the-art technology to produce TiO2, a pigment used in paints, plastics, and textiles as a whitening or brightening agent.

A public hearing notice pertaining to this project appears on page 6A of this edition of the Sea Coast Echo.

Diamondhead Fly-in

BY CHARLIE HORTON
A fun-filled weekend lies ahead for residents of Diamondhead and aviation fans of Hancock County as pilots and owners of Comanches, the sturdy, sleek and swift airplanes built by the Piper Aircraft Company between 1958 and 1972, from across the country plan to converge on the Diamondhead Airport on Friday, April 29.

The event is a national fly-in for airplane-owning and flying enthusiasts of the International Comanche Society, hosted by Charlie and Melody Horton of Diamondhead.

Charlie and Melody have a weekend planned for their visitors that will show off many of the attractions of the Mississippi coast, including a Friday night

BBQ buffet dinner on the back deck of the Yacht Club, a swamp tour on Saturday morning, visits to Old Town Bay St. Louis Saturday and a seafood feast at the Diamondhead Ramada Inn on Saturday night. Charlie and Melody, both air race champions and both owners of Comanche airplanes, will also be teaching a speed seminar to the pilots Saturday afternoon.

Diamondhead Airport residents are graciously offering to allow the visitors to park the 30 to 50 Comanche airplanes at their homes and are also volunteering their time to help their guests enjoy the weekend. Anyone wishing to help with this event can contact Charlie Horton at 228-255-6638 or by e-mail at com400@bellsouth.net.

Gauld maps of our Coast

Views From a Front Porch

by Paul Estronza
La Violette

www.annabellepublishing.com

This doesn't belong in this drawer. Look it over, it may interest you. I was in the Jackson County Historical Archives in Pascagoula watching Betty Rodgers, the archivist, pull out maps for me to look at. Betty had handed me a map that showed a large part of the western hemisphere.

The map was quite old, about mid-18th century. As would be expected, the Gulf of Mexico area was rather crudely shown. However, the American west coast did have Baja California attached to the mainland, which was unusual for maps of that era. I looked at the title block. It read, Captain James Cook.

"Is this real, Betty?" "Yes, I believe so. We have two of Captain Cook's maps. We keep them in another drawer usually. I don't know how they got in with the Gauld maps."

It was the Gauld maps I was interested in. George Gauld was an English Cartographer who mapped much of the northeastern Gulf of Mexico during the period 1764 through 1780. Gauld was a master cartographer and many of his maps were made so accurately that they remained in use up through the late 19th century. Most importantly for my interests, he made wonderfully detailed maps of the broad area known as British West Florida, an area that included the Bay of St. Louis, Pearl River, the Mississippi Sound and Lake Borgne.

"Here they are," Betty laid a stack of six rather large maps on the table in front of me.

I began going through them. The several maps were really six panels of one large map. Their size made them easier to handle. The manner in which they were drawn made me go to the title block. What I was looking at was a copy of Gauld's original field maps.

Betty had acquired the six panels from a naval

Knights in Purple Satin

"Beautiful," "striking" and "tough-as-nails" are just a few of the adjectives horticulturists use to describe Purple Knight alternanthera, which just received the 2005 Mississippi Medallion Award. Purple Knight is guaranteed to take gardening to new levels of enjoyment.

Purple Knight named '05 Medallion winner

Purple Knight will perform effortlessly for a long season, giving incredible beauty to the landscape. The choices of companion plantings are limited only by the grower's imagination.

The Mississippi Plant Selections Committee chose Purple Knight because it is an environmentally friendly plant with no serious pests or diseases. Rain, by the buckets, winds to make you seek cover and heat that would force you indoors are no match for Purple Knight.

This means Purple Knight provides landscape beauty without the fuss and worry associated with other plants.

Southern Gardening

by Norman Winter
MSU Horticulturist

Alternanthera may sound familiar because Purple Knight is related to the old-fashioned alternanthera known as Joseph's coat. That is where most similarities stop as Purple Knight is like a thoroughbred racehorse yielding its dark purple foliage from late spring until frost.

Purple Knight easily reaches 16 to 20 inches in height. Stand back and watch it perform in organic-rich, fertile soil. In my garden, I planted it in close proximity to a lot of my favorite perennials. It virtually covered up my salvias, purple heart and society garlic. It reached every bit of 36 inches with an equally impressive spread. But believe me, I was not the least bit upset with its tenacious performance.

When you get yours this spring, space plants 18 to 24 inches apart. The dark purple foliage blends wonderfully with flowers like the Tidal Wave petunia, particularly the silver and hot pink selections. For a complementary color scheme, try yellow, orange or gold flowers like New Gold lantana or the French dwarf-crested marigolds Bonanza or Janie.

Purple Knight is at home in tropical gardens where it can be used as an understory planting to bananas or elephant ears, or grown with cannas, coleus and caladiums.

Those with a cottage-style garden theme will want to use them with bold drifts of perennials like the black-eyed Susan, Shasta daisy, purple coneflower or blue salvia. I grew some last season with ornamental grasses, and the result was very pleasing. The choices of companion plantings are limited only by your imagination.

Purple Knight will perform effortlessly for a long season, giving incredible beauty to the landscape. Combine a little water during periods of drought with light applications of slow-release fertilizer in late spring, summer and early fall, and neighbors will be convinced you have the green thumb.

If at any time during the growing season you feel the need to give a light pruning to shape or confine a little,

1945 - Bay mother has five sons in service

TEN YEARS AGO
April 2, 1995 - Plans for two beachfront comfort stations and parking lots were shown Thursday to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, who said they would be willing to go over and initial budget figure to have them built. Engineer William Mitchell said the plans have been developed to keep the project cost around $500,000, but supervisors said they would be willing to pay more to keep from trimming too much of the facilities' size or quality. The facilities are proposed for construction at Washington Street in Bay St. Louis, and Coleman Avenue in Waveland. Both parking lots will accommodate 75 cars, and comfort stations will feature some decking, sky lights and an abundance of lowered openings for air circulation, the supervisors were told.

Destin Rutherford, (Photo), and Tiffany Gauthreaux, Bay High members of Student Affiliation for the Environment (S.A.F.E.), were among those who participated in the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee's annual cleanup. They collected litter along Dunbar Avenue in preparation for the annual Spring

NOAA reminds shrimpers to get vessel permits

The National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) reminds all shrimp vessel owners and operators who intend to fish for shrimp in federal waters of the Gulf of Mexico that they must obtain a commercial vessel permit.

Completed permit applications should be submitted at least 30 days prior to the date on which the applicant desires to have the permit made effective.

Any delay in submitting a completed application could delay an applicant's receipt of the permit, and thus, preclude legal fishing for Gulf shrimp until the permit can be issued. All vessel permits will be mailed to owners, whether the applicant is an owner or operator.

The application fee is $50 to obtain an initial federal Gulf of Mexico shrimp fishery permit.

The non-transferable permit will be valid for one year from which it is issued unless it is revoked, suspended, or modified, or if the vessel is sold.

Although a permit will be issued on an annual basis, an application for its renewal will only be required every two years. In the interim year, renewal will be automatic for a vessel owner who has met the specific requirements for the permit.

To apply for a permit, the owner or operator of a shrimp vessel should contact: Permits Office, NMFS Southeast Region, 263 13th Avenue South, St. Petersburg, Florida 33701. For more information, call (727) 824-5326.

Pilgrimage.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

April 4, 1985 - Bay St. Louis Attorney John A. Scafide, Jr., was elected chairman, and Ray Kidd, Waveland, vice-chairman of the Hancock County Sand Beach Technical Advisory Committee. Wednesday evening, Ralph M. Field, of Ralph M. Field Associates Urban and Environmental Planning in Westport, Conn., discussed the firm's objectives in the Hancock-Harrison Sandbeach Improvement Project with the Hancock County Advisory members. Jeff Taylor, Gulf Regional Planning Commission representative, advised the members of an up-coming tour set next Wednesday and Thursday in Gulf Shores, Alabama and the Florida Cities of Pensacola, Destin and Panama City by the two advisory committee members.

The possibility of a new tech technology center building at NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County was in doubt for a while, but I am very pleased to report a Bill providing for its funding is on its way to the Governor for signature into law. Last Month, the Senate passed my amendment to the appropriations Bill for the Mississippi Research and Development Center to include $4 million for the technology center. (By State Senator Gene Taylor).

FORTY YEARS AGO

April 1, 1965 - Hancock County's Assessment climbed to a new high for 1964 and Hancock County Tax Assessor George Heitzmann this week predicted the 1965 assessment will top the $20 million mark. The figures show $17,076,756, including $83,839 for oil and gas.

Join Police Force. (Photo). Two new patrolmen are sworn in Monday at Bay City Hall by Mayor John A. Scafide, while commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren J. Traub witness oath. Policemen, both in uniform, Douglas J. Williams and William M. Tate, who have completed training course conducted by Gulfport Police Department. They are first Negroes to join Bay St. Louis force.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

March 31, 1955 - Again the Hancock County Blood Bank has proved its worth. This time Blood Bank officials were notified that a resident of Hancock County was in bad need of plasma in the Poplarville Hospital. Judge Nelius Rhodes was notified immediately. Promptly, he got in touch with the Highway Patrol in Gulfport, who in turn reached the Louisiana State Patrol, who picked up the blood at Foundation Hospital where it is stored.

Patrolman Bill Kenny met his Louisiana counterpart at the state line and proceeded to Poplarville with needed blood. The total time that elapsed from the minute the Mississippi Highway Patrol was notified until the blood was delivered to Poplarville was one hour and thirty minutes.

Burglars guarded well by the darkness of the night, tore their way into the Sellers School Cafeteria and drove away with an approximate $350 of food stuff. The robbery was detected Monday morning, when Mrs. Elizabeth Harriel, entered and found the deep freeze, which she left full Friday, almost empty. The police, in the form of Chief Deputy Sheriff Sam Peterson, arrived and found only one definite clue, a finger print on a broken window glass. The goods stolen included chicken, butter, beans, shortening, rice, cheese, other foods and some school supplies.

Joseph McCullough, principal of Sellers stated, that no unauthorized person entered the campus in an automobile. The principle said, "My home is house is situated at the only gate and I check every vehicle that enters the campus on the road. The persons who robbed the cafeteria must have been parked on the road off campus."

SIXTY YEARS AGO

April 6, 1945 - As day after day goes by, and we survey the war situation about us, and we think of our own burdens, we can always visualize someone else whose burdens are far heavier than ours.

We believe we have located the outstanding war mother in Bay St. Louis in the person of Mrs. Rene Bermond. She has five sons in the service of their country, as follows: James Joseph Hobbs, son of Mrs. Bermond and the late Frank Hobbs, is a machinist mate 2/c in the U.S. Coast Guard. He entered the service in 1941 and is now in New London, Conn. Pfc. Eugene John Bermond, Army entered service, July 14, 1943, trained in Camp Haan and is now in Belgium. He suffered a shoulder injury while in combat on January 20 and received a Purple Heart. He has not at the time of this writing returned to active duty. Pvt. Harold Leo Bermond, Army Infantry, entered service March 31, 1944 and was wounded in France on November 20, 1944 and is now back on duty. Pvt. Shelton George Bermond, Army Medical Corps, entered service March 15, 1942 and is now in England. He is assigned on a ship that brings the wounded back to the United States. Rene Richard Bermond, Jr., U.S. Coast Guard, has served his country for two years but is now on a physical discharge. The four latter named are the sons of Mrs. Bermond and her second husband, Rene Bermond, an employee of the City of Bay St. Louis.

Pfc. Wm. Turner Soldini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner Soldini of Waveland, was reported wounded in action on Iwo Jima on February 19th. He is a member of the United States Marine Corps and has been in the Pacific for some time.

Pfc. Victor Lind, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lind of Kiln, has been reported wounded in action in the Pacific. Details of the exact nature of his wounds have not been reported as yet.

NEWSPAPERS DELIVER VOTERS

70% of newspaper subscribers say they will "definitely vote"!

NEWSPAPERS ARE EFFECTIVE

Newspaper readership is highest among the groups most likely to vote...professionals, high income earners, the more educated and ages 35-64. Less than one of every three television viewers say they will "probably vote".

NEWSPAPERS HAVE CREDIBILITY

Newspapers score higher than any other medium in believability surveys.

NEWSPAPERS EDUCATE VOTERS

Newspapers offer in-depth coverage of local events and current issues, not just snippets and sound bites. By using this strength, Political Campaigns can get their message out to readers who tend to be "Centers of Influence" in their communities. This ability to tell the whole story helps voters make informed decisions. If you are running for political office, you need to be "in the paper"!

Views -- Gauld's maps

archive in Great Britain and she was quite proud of having obtained them. I don't blame her. They were quite rare. Although William Fadden had published Gauld's maps in the 1780s long after Gauld's death, the maps Fadden published had been modified from Gauld's original work. My being able to sit at a large table in Pascagoula and look at Gauld's original field maps was an exceptional experience and wonderful to be able to examine in detail.

Here laid in front of me was a view of the Mississippi Sound exactly as it was in the 1760s, almost 250 years ago. The detailed depths of the oyster reefs of Pass Marianne and Square Handkerchief Shoal were plainly visible. Pearl River was also well detailed. Near, what we now call Half Moon Island, was St. Joes Island. It is a shoal now, marked by a beacon.

It is interesting to note that the Gauld map was lost as far as the United States was concerned. At the time the maps were made, the area was under British sovereignty. This ended when Spain declared war on Great Britain in 1779. Directly abutting British West Florida was Spanish Louisiana under the efficient governorship of Bernardo de Galvez. Already engulfed in the tribulations created by the American Revolution taking place to the north, the regional British West Florida government found itself forced to establish a defense against Galvez with almost no defense forces. They were not successful. In May 1780 after a siege of several months, Pensacola fell to Bernardo de Galvez's large invasion fleet and the area came under Spanish rule.

The Spanish called their new area, Spanish West Florida and held it until they too were evicted by a revolution of dissatisfied Americans settlers in November 1810. These settlers (who unimaginatively called their new country, the Republic of West Florida) were in turn quashed by Governor Claiborne acting for the United States interest as part of the newly formed Louisiana Territory. Claiborne annexed the area to Mississippi Territory already established to the its north and the name West Florida disappeared. Ask any Mississippi school child about this part of Mississippi history and see what answer you will get. Better yet, ask any one of our legislators in Jackson.

But to get back to Gauld's maps. The British Admiralty had commissioned all of Gauld's many maps and as such, they stayed in Admiralty hands. Some were copied and distributed to British Naval units, some were published, such as the William Fadden maps in the 1780s and these were made available to the British merchant marine. But almost none of Gauld's maps were known by United States naval or civilian interests. It wasn't till the early 1820s that maps of the Mississippi Sound were made that even approached the quality of the Gauld maps.

In my book, Sink or be Sunk, I tell of the British naval officer, Captain Gordon, making an examination of the barrier islands that border the Mississippi Sound. He had been ordered to do so by Admiral Cochrane who, as head of the British invasion fleet, was preparing to seize New Orleans in December 1814. Gordon was comparing the condition of the islands to that portrayed by Admiralty maps made in the 1770s.

There is no question in my mind but that Gordon was looking at copies of the same Gauld maps that Betty laid in front of me on the large table in the Historical Archives in Pascagoula.

Bro. Ramon inducted into St. Stanislaus Hall of Fame

THE SEA COAST ECHO
St. Stanislaus College will induct Brother Ramon Daunis, SC, class of 1947, and Judge Edward A. Dufresne, class of 1958, into its Hall of Fame for the 2004-2005 academic year, according to Brother Ronald Talbot, SC, President.

The induction will take place at the St. Stanislaus College Annual Founders Society Banquet and Hall of Fame Induction scheduled for Saturday, May 7, at 7 p.m.

Brother Ramon Daunis, SC, born on July 13, 1928, is the son of the late Frederick and Cecile Paysse Daunis. He has one sister, the late Cecile Mize, and two brothers, the late Frederick Daunis, Jr., and Ernest Daunis. His family has grown over the years to include three nephews, Fred Daunis, Gerry Daunis, and Nance Heath.

Brother Ramon grew up in New Orleans, Louisiana but he attended St. Stanislaus College from the fourth grade through the twelfth. After his graduation in 1947, he entered the Prenovitiate for the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in Metuchen, New Jersey. He professed his final vows on August 15, 1954, in Mobile, Alabama.

Through his many years of service as a Brother, he has worked as a prefect, laundry director, and maintenance director at over seven schools including: Catholic High School in Baton Rouge, Louisiana; St. Aloysius High School in New Orleans, Louisiana; St. Joseph's Juniorate in Metuchen, New Jersey; D'Evereux High School in Natchez, Mississippi; and Coindre Hall Boarding School in Huntington, New York. Although he has served in many other schools, Brother Ramon still calls St. Stanislaus "home." His years as a student and Brother have created a real appreciation for the mission of the school and the works of the Brothers and their lay colleagues at St. Stanislaus.

Brother Ramon is also known for his ability to teach kids to water ski and for his passion for the water. During his many years of service in Bay St. Louis, he has taught thousands of kids to ski on the Jourdan River. His pole boat, the TWO, is known by just about everyone on the river and serves not only as a great tool for teaching kids to ski, but also conveys Ramon to and from the houses of his many friends on the river. At a younger age, he was also known for creating pyramids on the water with campers and for his skills at barefoot skiing. For over 30 years, he assisted Brother Noel Lemmon with the operations of Camp Stanislaus.

Brother Ramon is now enjoying his life in senior ministry at St. Stanislaus. He can be often be found in the bus garage working on a tractor. He still teaches kids to ski, but most of all, he is a role model to the students and faculty at St. Stanislaus, and he is a friend to many. According to a close friend, Brother Ramon always personifies a St. Stanislaus "Man of Character."

Many years have passed and thousands of SSC students and campers have been taught by Brother Ramon, whether it was water skiing or the lessons of self-discipline and taking responsibility for one's actions. Teaching the students with discipline, humor, love and respect is what has always mattered to Brother Ramon.

Judge Edward Dufresne, Jr., born on October 26, 1938, is the son of Edward August Dufresne, Sr., and Irene Ludwig Dufresne. He began his education at Hahnville Elementary School. After the summer of his eighth grade year, he transferred to St. Stanislaus, where he graduated in 1956.

While attending St. Stanislaus, Judge Dufresne was active in the school band and many other organizations. He still tells stories of the old band hall (which use to be called the chicken coop because...that is what it was), and how he operated the bulldozer that his father lent to the Brothers to move their cemetery and to complete other school projects.

After graduating from SSC, Judge Dufresne attended Loyola University in New Orleans and graduated with a degree in accounting in 1960. He continued his education at the Loyola University School of Law where he graduated with his Juris Doctorate in 1963.

During his younger years, Edward worked on the Esperanza Plantation, which is the family sugar cane plantation. He was a tractor driver and farm laborer during that time. After completing college, he worked as a bookkeeper, as well as a laborer for the plantation.

While attending law school, Judge Dufresne met and married Dorothy Marie St. Amant. They have enjoyed 43 years together and have created an amazing family. They have four daughters: Debra Vial, Dana Authement, Denise Hymel, and Dawn Dawson. Edward and Dorothy Dufresne also enjoy the love of their son-in-laws: David Vial, Louis Authement, James Hymel, Jr. and Michael Dawson. There family has grown over the years to include ten beautiful grandchildren: David and Dena Vail; Grant, Ross Dane, Bryce and Ayden Authement; James, Jr. and Justin Hymel; and Anna Irene Dawson.

Judge Dufresne has had a very distinguished career in the legal profession. He was admitted to the State Board of Louisiana in August of 1963. Only five months later, he was elected to his first office as the St. Charles Parish Clerk of Court where he served four consecutive terms. He was elected as District Judge for the 29th Judicial District in 1978 and was elected to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeal for the State of Louisiana in 1981. Judge Dufresne has served the legal profession in public office for over 41 years. It is a credit to his character and integrity that he was always elected without opposition.

Outside of the legal profession, Judge Dufresne is known for his integrity, honesty and sincerity, and he is mainly known and respected for his devotion to his family and to his community.

He also maintains a strong devotion to St. Stanislaus. He truly loves St. Stanislaus and is the first in any crowd to tell you that he is a Rockchaw graduate. St. Stanislaus and the Brothers of the Sacred Heart are honored to have Judge Dufresne as a spokesman for the school. He mirrors the image of a true St. Stanislaus College "man of character."

St. Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades 6-12. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

Persistence In Prayer

In the Bible, Jesus asks His disciples, "Which of you who has a friend will go to him at midnight and say to him, 'Friend lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine has arrived on a journey and I have nothing to set before him'; and he will answer from within, 'Do not bother me; the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot get up and give you anything'? Yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him whatever he needs" (Luke 11:5-8). This example that Jesus gives us is a good reminder of how we should be persistent in our prayers. And although I have heard it said that once we pray for something, we can forget about our prayer request because we have turned it over to God, this attitude may not be appropriate in all cases. Because, like the man requesting the three loaves, we should be persistent with our prayers when we are faced with a concerning situation that remains with us. Praying for months or even years for various situations is sometimes necessary. For example, because of their love, many parents will pray a lifetime for their children's safety and well-being. We should always be aware that we are God's children and He is faithful to those who love Him and seek His help in prayer.

But for thee, O Lord, do I wait; it is thou,
O Lord my God, who wilt answer.

History's second greatest superstar

There has never been a doubt about who is the greatest Superstar in the annals of human history. Hands down, Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever," as we are advised in the letter to the Hebrews 13:3. His credentials are unquestionable.

Until the past two weeks, there was some dispute about who holds the title of the second-greatest superstar in the history of the world. Arguably, the events of the last two weeks have laid to rest all speculation about who can claim the title of second-greatest.

Compared to all other superstars after the no-brainer Jesus Christ, the greatest would logically have to be the one who outdraws all other luminaries in the sea of humanity, who attracts the most diverse crowds as to age, ethnic group, sex, faith and status, and whose legacy is rooted in the most lasting, ideal, transcendent values among humans.

We have seen these criteria matched in the last 26 years and verified and affirmed in the last few weeks of world history. Never before has a rock star or contending superstar drawn the magnitude, the diversity and the devotion of crowds as we have just witnessed.

"All roads lead to Rome," it has been said for centuries. But no one ever envisioned anything like highways and roads so clogged for hundreds of miles that it became in fact even worse than the all-too-familiar, days-long gridlock of pre-hurricane evacuations.

Innumerable Poles marched on Rome, swelled by more than one could count from every corner of the globe. The privileged vanguard of all these got in what could hardly be called a line 40-abreast and moved toward the bier of the fallen pontiff. It mattered not that it was going to take some from 15 to 24 hours to pay their respects at the catafalque.

Reflections on Life
by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

The object here is not to compare the worth of various religions, but to peer into the perennial, common, eternal values of true believers. Deep down underneath, what was happening was not so much a Catholic thing as a world event to which all believers of any persuasion could easily relate by their own belief in the divine and the eternal.

There was a time when it was generally agreed that Muhammad Ali was the most recognizable person in the world. Then Michael Jordan had his turn, authenticating the game of basketball around the world. Over the past eight years, Tiger Woods is perhaps the preeminent, globally recognizable name. He adds excitement and drama to celebrity.

Understandably, it is usually an athlete or some other kind of entertainer who makes the greatest impact of recognition and outright celebrity on the stage of the world at large. The reason, of course, is that most of us passionately pursue some form of entertainment.

Just as curiously, Karol Wojtyla, an obscure cardinal in Krakow, Poland, excelling as a sportsman, actor, poet, playwright, philosopher, theologian and churchman, slowly, painstakingly, over decades of time climbed the stair steps to ultimate celebrity.

By far most of us peons are fortunate to have our 15 minutes of glory, and many there are who do not have any moments in the sun at all. As most of the rest of the world, we rank and file are astounded by the superstardom of people like Pope John Paul II.

It is hard to imagine one who has such near limitless exposure that he is fortunate to have 15 minutes which are not in the limelight.

Thanks in great part to Pope John Paul II himself, who had technicians wire the Vatican for TV, the world looked directly into his life, indeed into every aspect of his daily activities, blessings, teaching and global travels.

No Roman emperor, no world leader ever had a funeral celebration even remotely comparable to that of Pope John Paul II, what with an overflowing St. Peter Basilica and giant screens accommodating 10,000 people in the famed Circus Maximus, tens of thousands more at the Tiber River, in the Coliseum and other venues in the Eternal City.

Tens of millions of believers in other cities and countries across the planet mirrored the same eagerness to pay final tribute to their world-class superstar who had gone on to glory. Predominantly Muslim Indonesia arranged for full coverage of the papal funeral. So did Sri Lanka and some other countries ordinarily hostile to Christian religions.

It is most evident that the greatest figures in world history are not those who chose to pursue fame and celebrity, but rather those who eschewed notoriety, fame and celebrity in favor of the highest ideals in life through humble service to God and fellow humans.

So the TV wiring of the Vatican was not put there for the purpose of notoriety, except that the Good News should be well known and propagated worldwide. A thorough peek into the life of the Sovereign Pontiff was only a means to teaching the Good News.

In addition to the countless wannabes in every country, there are those handfuls of people who achieve notoriety, fame, fortune and celebrity. Isn't it ironic that they are outdone by a man who wanted none of the above and who taught difficult choices in life?

And the upshot of all this? Goodness and service ultimately outshine all other human activities.

It is no accident that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. is warmly celebrated each year on his birthday, for what he said and did has perennial, transcendent meaning.

The self-effacing, humble servant of suffering humanity, Mother Teresa of Calcutta, proved this in her life, perhaps better than anyone else in these latter years. She became a superstar in her own right by saying and doing what interests the world most of all.

There were numerous differences between her and Pope John Paul II because of the global nature of the papal office. However, the principal difference was much more the blanket, constant TV and other exposure which is now part and parcel of the papacy. The most elite haunts of religion have now become the limelight and lore of superstardom.

The faithful, heroic, service-filled lives of myriads of women and men around the globe are mirror images of what Mother Teresa and Pope John Paul II accomplished. In our efforts to be Godly servants, the rest of us enjoy a trickle down effect from them.

Scripture Says
By Ed Young

True Worshipers

"But the hour cometh and now is when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in Spirit and in Truth; for the Father seeks such to worship Him" John 4:23.

Who are the true worshipers? What does it mean to worship in Spirit and in Truth?

Verse 24 says, God is a Spirit, and those who worship Him do so in Spirit and in Truth.

Most churchgoers will read or recite a familiar prayer by memory. Others sing songs they have memorized from their youth. Is that worshipping in Spirit and Truth?

In the fourth chapter of John, the woman ask Jesus, is it in this mountain or Jerusalem where they should worship?

Jesus tell her the true believers will worship in Spirit and Truth.

This means the true believer has been spiritually made anew. The spirit of that believer has become new in Christ, born from above. The Holy Spirit and the spirit of the believer now communicate.

Worship and the truth of things of God are pleasing to the Heavenly Father.

To read and study the Bible, to have a daily prayer life, and to subject one's self to hearing the Word of God, that believer will become more and more spiritual.

Thou shall love the Lord the God with all thy heart, all thy mind, and all thy strength.

Are you a true worshiper?

Attend the church, synagogue or temple of your choice regularly

The "Word" for the Week

The Testimony of Faith

Evolution is the prevalent view today. That there is a God who created the universe is almost universally rejected. But the Bible says, "By faith we understand that the worlds were created by the word of God, so that what is seen was not made out of things which are visible" (Hebrews 11:3). Is the Bible advocating a leap in the dark? No! Faith has a rational and reasonable foundation. Real faith is based upon evidences. Faith is not a leap in the dark. Faith is a leap into the light. Let's take art as an example. People who study paintings know an artist leaves his or her imprint on the masterpiece. The artist is known by his or her work. The same is true of creation. The universe is a veritable masterpiece. God reveals Himself through the creation. "His invisible attributes, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood through what has been made" (Romans

1:20). When we study the universe, we come to grips with the eternal God. More than one scientist has had to admit this is the case. Then they embrace God as the creator. This is what we mean by faith. But this is the first level of faith. You see, the Bible assumes the existence of God because there are two great books: revealing the living God. The first is the book of God's creation. This is a more general revelation of God. The second is the Bible. The Bible gives the plan of God which is played out upon the stage of creation. And so the one builds on and complements the other. But if you do not accept God who reveals Himself through the creation, you will never accept God who reveals Himself through the Bible.

Movie: Field of Dreams

This fantasy, based on W.P. Kinsella's book "Shoeless Joe," stars Kevin Costner as an Iowa farmer whose love of baseball leads him to build a diamond in a cornfield. The ghost of Shoeless Joe Jackson arrives, followed by other players. In this 1989 film, Amy Madigan, Burt Lancaster, Ray Liotta, Timothy Busfield and James Earl Jones also star.

Movie: Phenomenon

A bolt of lightning gives a simple mechanic a genius-level IQ and telekinetic powers. It's hard enough dealing with the neighbors, who are put off by his new abilities, but the serious trouble comes when he deciphers a top-secret military message and playfully sends a response. John Travolta, Kyra Sedgwick, Robert Duvall and Forest Whitaker star in this 1996 fantasy drama.

Cirque du Soleil: Varekai

The innovative troupe brings another of its productions to television. The setting is an unusual world situated at a volcano summit into which a young man parachutes. Before long, he experiences the unusual aspects of the locale and its creatures. The cast includes performers from 13 countries, ranging from the United States and Canada to Italy and Russia. Their various skills are underscored by distinctive lighting.

Movie: Call of the Wild

Rick Schroder stars as John Thornton in this 1993 intense tale of a man and his dog based on the Jack London novel. Setting off for Alaska and the lure of gold, John saves the life of Buck, a severely beaten dog. The two rely on each other for survival in harsh conditions. Gordon Tootoosis, Mia Sara, Richard Newman and Brent Stait also star.

In Focus

Veteran stage star Joel Grey - who raked in all sorts of awards as the emcee in "Cabaret" and most recently appeared on Broadway in "Wicked" - makes a rare television appearance as the impersonator of Sloane (Ron Rifkin) in "Alias" Wednesday, April 20, on ABC.

Sydney (Jennifer Garner) initially isn't pleased to have to work with Sloane to catch his doppelganger, but she and Nadia (Mia Maestro) discover something that ultimately makes them glad they're involved.

The title "I Married a Princess" actually is fact for actor Casper Van Dien ("Starship Troopers"), whose union with former "Dynasty" co-star Catherine Oxenberg is explored in an unscripted Lifetime series premiering Monday, April 18. Oxenberg played a princess on her serial while being one in real life, but having a royal background doesn't guarantee sunny skies ... as demonstrated by portions of the new show, in which she faces the aftermath of a medical problem.

TV Trivia

Julie Hagerty ("Airplane!") spent six years studying acting in Cincinnati and at Juilliard, after which she pursued modeling in New York.

Lloyd Bridges ("East of Eden") made his Broadway debut in "Othello" and later acted under contract in Columbia productions.

Robert Slack ("The Untouchables") was employed as a teenager to teach celebrities skeet shooting.

Ethel Merman ("It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World") was a stenographer and nightclub singer before she made her way into acting.

Leslie Nielsen ("Men With Brooms") served in the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War II despite being legally deaf since childhood.

Third Watch
A traffic snarl ends in murder when a driver loses it and shoots a couple dead, letting their teenage son (Peter Scanavino) escape. Davis and Finney are injured in the incident, which turns out to be more than just a case of road rage, as Yokas finds a link to another killing ... and to a cult that's involved in child abuse and kiddie porn. Tia Texada also stars in the new episode.

In Focus

The secrets and facts of lush tropical regions around the world are explored as the series "Nature" launches "Deep Jungle: New Frontiers" Sunday, April 17, on PBS. Rain forests are the subjects of the first installment, with Borneo and the Congo among the areas visited. The creatures that are indigenous to such locales also are considered, such as the Sumatran tiger - never before shown in its natural habitat - and the giant moth of Madagascar.

NCIS

Gibbs (Mark Harmon) is called upon to track down Col. Will Ryan (guest star Terry O'Quinn), who took money — $2 million, to be exact — and ran from Iraq. Ryan, however, is Gibbs' former commanding officer, and Gibbs suspects something isn't quite right about the government's story. He and the team set out not just to find Ryan but to clear his name. Sasha Alexander, Michael Weatherly and David McCallum also star in "Enigma."

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

Medical examiner Jordan (Jill Hennessy) comes face-to-face with danger during a Boston blackout in "After Dark." The power outage hits as she and Bug (Ravi Kapoor) are driving through a tunnel — as are criminals making a getaway after staging a jewel heist. It doesn't take long for the two factions to cross paths; Macy (Miguel Ferrer) and Hoyt (Jerry O'Connell) race to the scene.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Jurassic Park III

Steven Spielberg is on board as a producer of this 2001 thriller, the second sequel to the dinosaur blockbuster, although he didn't direct it. Sam Neill is back from the first film as paleontologist Alan Grant, who is ticked by a couple (William H. Macy, Tea Leoni) into returning to the land of cloned, prehistoric creatures to find their missing son. Expectedly, some new monsters want them for dinner.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

In "Game,"

Stabler and Fin

(Christopher Meloni, Ice-T) investigate the brutal rape and murder of a prostitute. The prime suspects turn out to be teenagers who were apparently acting out scenes from a video game. Novak (Diane Neal) faces a formidable courtroom opponent in the teens' lawyer, whose defense strategy is to blame the game.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

In "Fluency," McCoy (Sam Waterston) and his new partner, Assistant District Attorney Alexandra Borgia (Annie Parisse, "National Treasure"), work with Detectives Fontana and Green to bring down the source of a bogus influenza vaccine. The fake vaccine has caused nine deaths, and Borgia makes a rash promise to the victims' families that has McCoy struggling to help keep her word.
